

Thaler is a principal at Fuller and Thaler Asset Management and serves on the academic advisory board of Allianz Global Investors. He has been paid to give speeches to dozens of groups all over the world for several decades, too numerous to remember much less enumerate. The views expressed in his academic papers and essays for the popular press are his alone. Any potential conflicts of interest in those writings are disclosed at the time.