Raghuram G. Rajan: Disclosure of interests in 2017

Remunerated Relationships in 2017 apart from my employment at the University of Chicago’s Booth School.

1) I am a senior economic advisor to BDT and Company, a merchant bank for closely held firms.

2) I give one-off paid talks to industry conferences and board meetings, as well as to clients of industrial corporations, banks, investment banks, and hedge funds. I do not do research for these firms, nor is my research specifically related to any business undertaken by these firms.
   a. I do not speak directly on prospective Indian monetary policy in any of my talks, and avoid direct questions on likely direction.
   b. I did not give talks for international banks till a year after I left the Reserve Bank of India.
   c. I do not intend to give talks for any Indian entity I regulated while Governor of the Reserve Bank, nor engage in any other remunerated relationship with them.

3) I have not offered expert testimony for lawsuits or undertaken paid consulting work for private corporations.

Relationships without any financial remuneration in 2017

4) Member of the Group of Thirty.

5) Member of the Eminent Persons Group to advise the G20 on global financial system reforms.

6) Advisor to KREA, a group engaged in starting a liberal arts college in South India.